

Call Center Solutions Have a New Home Within McKesson and on the Web

The Medical Management Systems Call Center Solutions team has joined the Provider Technologies division of McKesson. While you will continue to work with the same support employees you've come to know and trust, we have migrated our online support services and product information to the McKesson Provider Technologies Web site, mpt.mckesson.com.

Check out this site for product information, to register for educational courses, and to access support services on our "For Customers" area.
